

AFIMSC Capability Airmen & Family Services

The Air Force Installation and Mission Support Center executes quality of life programs that take care of Airmen, Guardians and their families. AFIMSC delivers affordable, accessible and quality morale, welfare and recreation and sustainment services across the Department of the Air Force.

From housing, dining services and recreation and fitness to workforce solutions, worship and travel entitlements, AFIMSC delivers services that are critical to overall Airmen wellness and readiness. These programs increase trust and transparency among Airmen, Guardians and their families, promote readiness through quality of life programs and lead to higher retention across the Air Force.

Quality Care and Support Services

AFIMSC helps provide places for Airmen, Guardians and their families to live, train, work and play through various programs and initiatives.

Chaplain Corps

AFIMSC provides an enterprise view of Chaplain Corps programs and services that help establish trusted connections and feed the spiritual, ethical, moral and religious needs of Airmen, Guardians and their families.

Housing

AFIMSC is committed to providing Airmen, Guardians and their families secure communities they are proud to call home. AFIMSC's Air Force Civil Engineer Center manages the housing program and ensures Airmen, Guardians and their families have access to safe, quality homes.

Airman & Family Services Programs

AFIMSC's Air Force Services Center and the Airman and Family Services Division meet the needs of military members and their families through successful operation of food, fitness, child care, lodging, community, nonappropriated funds human resources and recreational programs. The Airman and Family Services Division also oversees and supports the official mail and postal program for continental United States installations. The DAF School Liaison Program facilitates outreach, advocacy and partnership initiatives that generate real-time solutions for PreK-12 military-connected students.

Office of the Future

Through a culture of experimentation and innovation, AFIMSC is establishing a new model for office-work that leverages cutting edge information technology to enable collaboration and flexible work in order to optimize resources, maintain connectedness and quality of life while improving mission effectiveness.

Resources Management Voucher Program

AFIMSC's Resources Directorate processes and handles payment of temporary duty and permanent change of station travel entitlements for travel performed outside of the Defense Travel System including wounded warrior travel, attaché travel, threatened member travel, travel of families of deceased active duty members and evacuee travel.

Strengthening Airmen and Families

AFIMSC established three lines of effort in its strategic plan, including strengthening Airmen, Guardians and their families, to enhance key mission areas. The following goals that support this line of effort allow Airmen to concentrate on executing the mission knowing they and their families are being taken care of.

-  Revolutionize AFIMSC as Office of the Future
-  Improve Unaccompanied Housing
-  Optimize Community Cohesion
-  Improve Customer Satisfaction
-  Improve Family Housing
